Kiss Your Shadow

In Strict Confidence

Kiss your shadow your shadow in the night arm just one more time for your last aimless fight I scream into the falling rain words I'd lost, but found again

But when the angel returns back into the sky I will follow him even I have to die save the darkness let it never fade away take a seat on the moon watch the sun turns to grey

Kiss your shadow the shadow in my eyes trust the outline an eye never lies I scream into the falling rain words I'd lost, but found again

But when the angel returns back into the sky I will follow him even I have to die save the darkness let it never fade away take a seat on the moon watch the sun turns to grey
