Lost at Sea

In This Moment

My beautiful liar Why are you crying On your knees You've crucified yourself And now denial is rising Why So tell me So tell me how did you lose yourself at sea Drifting within So tell me why did you cast yourself away It's such a sweet addiction You should celebrate My beautiful liar You are drowning In your fear You're cutting into me You think if I bleed It can save you Why So tell me So tell me how did you lose yourself at sea Drifting within this So tell me why did you cast yourself away It's such a sweet addiction You should celebrate And you know if I could I'd take your pain

But will you turn and face your disease
