

Centre Of The Sun

Incognito

I once believed I'd found the one
He moved the ground beneath my feet
But the love given me, was temporary
And one by one my dreams would disappear

It's taken me some time to move beyond the pain
And I would wonder if I could learn to love again
Then came you, and now I know

We can become as one
Living it up together we can learn
We've only just begun
We can become as one
We can ignite the fire
We can burn
Burn like the centre of the sun
We've only just begun

What is a day without a night?
We compliment each other you and I
The space between us, a place within us
A field of dreams where love will always rule

It's taken me some time to move beyond the pain
And I would wonder if I could learn to love again
Then came you
Into my life and you're letting me know

We're keepin' it real
Ain't funky baby?
