More of myself From the moment that we met I knew I wanna give all of myself to you Now wherever I may be I'd even brave the stormy sea Won't tarry on a shore That keeps me from your door 'Cos I'm missing you More, more, more of myself I wanna give more of me to you More, more, more of myself I wanna give more from me to you More of myself I wanna give more of myself More of myself Every time I dream it's you, I find Running through the blossoms in my mind I know I'll love you endlessly Because the love you give to me Gets me to the core And leaves me wanting more 'Cos I'm missing you More, more, more of myself I wanna give more of me to you More, more, more of myself I wanna give more from me to you More of myself I wanna give more of myself More of myself I gotta give more of myself Now wherever I may be I'd even brave the stormy sea Won't tarry on a shore That keeps me from your door 'Cos I'm missing you More, more, more of myself I wanna give more of me to you More, more, more of myself I gotta give more from me to you More, more, more of myself I wanna give more of me to you More, more, more of myself I wanna give more from me to you More, more, more of myself I wanna give more of me to you From me to you, more of myself I wanna give it I wanna give it to you, baby More of myself, more of myself
