

Bring me out of this reality
Because I keep falling under and under
From this misery that you have caused me
All these words that you spread like a disease,
Keeps me alone in the dark where none will ever find me
When will you realize you have put me down enough?
When will you realize that this is enough?
I'm so sick of your judgment and your politics there irrelevant
These words that you say always poisons me in the worst of ways
I know to tell myself I'm not afraid this time because you are the coward
I'm lost in the dark
I've been trying to find myself
What is life when I can't see anymore
I'm sinking
What is life when I can't see anymore
I'm sinking
Struggling to break away from you and everything you put me through I just want to break away from you and everything that you put me through
With blindness sinking in it's hard to feel anymore
You've pushed me too far
I'll let you drown in your own filth bitch
I'll let you drown in your own filth
I'm lost in the dark
I've been trying to find myself
What is life when I can't see anymore
I'm sinking
What is life when I can't see anymore
I'm sinking
Struggling to break away from you and everything you put me through
You are the worst of them
You'll never take me alive this time
Drown in your filth
