

Louder Than Words

Informatik

Talk to me
There is something that you are not telling me
I can almost see right through you
Look at me
The truth doesn't always come easily
Your actions have clearly spoken for you
Louder than words

Please hear me
Why is all of this happening suddenly?
Has this been hiding deep inside you?
Now I see
All the signs that were right there in front of me
Your actions have clearly spoken for you
Louder than words
Louder than words

You hook through the earth and the moon and the sun
In my heart you were the only one
It's so hard to believe that it's over
But it's through
You were all that I could ever want
I've been lost ever since you've been gone
And now there's nothing left of me

Now that we
Are living our new lives seperately
My heart is completely broken in two
You are free
Far away from my pain and my misery
Your actions have clearly spoken for you
Louder than words
Louder than words

Your actions have clearly spoken for you
Louder than words
Louder than words.
