How can this have happened
Now you're all alone

Who's going to know
If you make a difference
Don't make a sound
Then no one's sure to listen
If now's not the time
When will it be better
With this frame of mind
Change will take forever

If no one says a word
Then who's going to stop them
Do you not recall
We've seen this all before
Our hardest lesson learned
Too easily forgotten
How far will they go
We've got to tell them so

Forming from a sea of nothing
Turned into reality
All defined by our perception
We're our only enemy
