

Second Chance

Informatik

Thank you for your patience
A simple explanation
As I've been lying to myself

It has taken me a while
I've been wrapped up in denial
But the truth is finally coming out

Is there a second chance for me?
A new day ready to dawn?
How long will circumstance own me?
Just who is running the show?
I don't know...

There's a gaping hole
At the bottom of my soul
The more I feed it, the larger it grows

Is it better to die slowly?
All this living quickly
Is really starting to get old

Is there a second chance for me?
A new day ready to dawn?
How long will circumstance own me?
Just who is running the show?

It's not so easy to see
What's standing in front of me
It's very clear to me now
There's no mistaking

All the life left in me
All the love forgiving
There's nothing holding me down...

Searching through my mind
Sifting through the facts and lies
To find something I knew long ago

If there's one thing sure in life
We'll be all victims in time
So you have to save yourself or drown

Is there a second chance for me?
A new day ready to dawn?
How long will circumstance own me?
Just who is running the show? I know!

There is a second chance for me
A new day ready to dawn
No more shall circumstance own me
Now on, I'm running the show!
