

The perfect moment
To share with you my revelation
You might not believe it
Life should not be this complicated

Everything you need to know is right in front of your face
You'll never get what you don't ask for
Nobody ever really has it that great
It's simple so simple to me

Caught up in the moment
So unaware what's arbitrary
We don't even notice
The miniscule is extraordinary

Everything you need to know is right in front of your face
You'll never get what you don't ask for
Nobody ever really has it that great
It's simple so simple to me

There really can be another way
So simple it defies reason
The only thing we have is today
The only thing we need is love
The only thing we need is love
The only thing we need is love

That's what keeps me going
Our love life's truths yet to uncover
And finally knowing
That joy and pain are part of each other

Everything you need to know is right in front of your face
You'll never get what you don't ask for
Nobody ever really has it that great
It's simple so simple to me
