

Maybe It's Me

Ingram Hill

On the radio this morning
They played our song
Thought about the good times
And I wonder what went wrong
Miscommunication?
Or cause you had no faith in me
Lack of inspiration?
Or maybe, maybe it's just me

There's life that surrounds me
But still I cannot see
I just can't make my heart fall
For beauty endlessly
I don't know what I'm feeling
It's not right, it can't be
I try to find someone to blame
But maybe, maybe it's just me

Maybe you were right to find your way out of my life
You found comfort elsewhere while I held on way too tight
But I find no reason why I can't be satisfied
Perhaps cause I can't have you
