

Biomechanized Earthflutes

Ingrowing

imbued with the hallucinations of existence vapours we construct a melody of dehumanized despair's torso and in breathless shapelessness of ethereal miasma we sate the synthetic desire of multi-structural tissues we are like dumb musical instruments unearthly beef interwoven with shinning tubes softly resonate carnal flutes in time fragments share quiet tones fuga macabri
we resound the unreal earthflutes with our deceases we are part of them and steel's malevolence on our bodies is emollient now we are the same as they are voiceless, silent, faithful, but incoercible... living aggregate with clear intentions behind the multiverse l imits digitalized binary emotions snatched in flesh and blood showing climactis emptiness in intruding waves of tones we are just only beautiful, unnecessary equivalent of biomechanized ethereal flutes in symphony of universe
