

Paradise Regained

Inked In Blood

There is a place where the weary rest their hearts.
Where we are truly in love, and truly home.
I long for that rest.
Like falling asleep, like being at peace, where love conquers a ll things, just as it should.
We will only weep for joy.
You have seen me through the end of everything.
And now I see we're beginning again.
You have seen me through the start of everything.
And now I see we're beginning again.
This is the only way to be complete.
A site to dream of, and not to tell.
Yet we will wake eternally.
Like falling asleep, like being at peace, where love conquers a ll things, just as it should.
We will only weep for joy.
You have seen me through the end of everything.
And now I see we're beginning again.
You have seen me through the start of everything.
And now I see we're beginning again.
We have the hope of all hopes