Goblin Jig

Inkubus Sukkubus

Come and dance with me to the sound Of enchanted feet thumping on the ground And if you listen well, you're surely bound To join the dancing wildly round Come and join the dance without delay Let the faery people lead the way When their voices call you you obey Feel the rhythmic beat of the bodhran And let it summon up a storm And tho' your head may reel, and eyes may fail Any sense beside it would be paled Come and join the dance without delay Let the faery people lead the way When their voices call you you obey Stare into my eyes that hypnotise And give your soul up to the night And with the power we raise in our delight A thousand spirits will take flight! Come and join the dance without delay Let the faery people lead the way When their voices call you you obey Come and join the dance without delay Let the faery people lead the way When their voices call you you obey
