Love Spell

Inkubus Sukkubus

With a kiss of pure steel I pierce the skin
With a wish it sinks within
With the red of your blood and the red of mine
Its flesh SHALL stain as wine
Our love is greater than we two
And stonger than our lives
And though our bodies may decay
Our love will survive

With threads of pure silk and scarlet in hue I join, in love, we two Your life you have offered freely to me And mine I give to thee The Earth shall hold our lovers wish And keep it from the day And as the soil grows richer now My Love, it shall stay
