Ready For Attack

InnerWish

We're marching with last From another world below And no one dare to close our ways.

The enemy awaits, But we're never turning back This battle takes our fears away.

Standing in the fields we take an oath. A debt of honor to the swords we hold.

Hearts ready for attack Time to raise your fist against the wind Hearts ready for attack, be ready for attack.

The power we have, is a never ending flame Our freedom and our faith we claim. The tyrants above will surrender in our force And they will not forget this day.
