Welcome To My World

InnerWish

A world that is filled with darkness
Reality has turned to me
A life that is filled with anger
When sirens cursed my inner needs

Doors are locked
No air to breath
And promises I have to keep
Forced to live a boring life
And cursed to melt each time I cry

So I run
Fight, every day
To stable in a world unstable
So I run, fight, every night and cry

Welcome to my darkness
Welcome to my world

Insanity invades my brain
And solitude is what I gain
My futile dreams are bound to fail
And there is no ship for me to sail

One for one
And none for all
A genius heart against all odds
Is it me who I should blame?
Or destiny just rules?
