H.O.P.E.

I don't look for your comfort babe Gotten enough from you I was caught in the middle of deceiving Cast a role of fool Gimme more, gimme all to abhore I reveal or will owe you again May one day may no more may I say Forget it all and brace my reins

Better travel fast Underneath her mind Straight into her veins

I don't need your rules to obey like a piece of idiot Catch me, sear me, kill if you can But you're always late Gonna see, gonna be just for fee and grow As your silly idols Finally directly just for me and both Your identity

I hope that you believe In this never ending path That leads us through the night To the reigns of fallen pride

I don't look for your comfort babe Gotten enough from you I was caught in the middle of deceiving Cast a role of fool Gimme more, gimme all to abhore I reveal or will owe you again Finally directly just for me and both Your identity
