

Stop now, what's that sound?
Everybody look what's going down
Stop now, what's that sound?

I am a timebomb
A ticking ticking ticking timebomb
I am a timebomb
A ticking ticking ticking timebomb
Unattended on the railway station
In the litter at the dancehalls
Sitting pretty near the fast-food counter
In the backseat of a Vauxhall

Hear the ticking of your heartbeat beating
Hear the breaking of their promises
Hear the smashing of your expectations
Hear the shattering of half-rhymes

You don't tell time--time tells you
And all the timebombs
They're all dancing to the same song
In a world full of no-ones
I am a someone
Timebomb, timebomb, timebomb, timebomb

Karlův most is falling down
