Poison Well

Insolence

When it happen again like the time before Took a trip through my mental and find a small door To a passage written through time this is my mind set You find it deeper inside the strong-minded I find the energy and feel fire Changes the gravity inside of me We have no time to fret No time for regret If the poison doesn't kill us we commin live and direct This is my life This is my hell Straight took a journey This is my life This is my hell Straight took a journey My brain strain I feel no pain All kinds a chemicals race through my brain This and that well let me counteract Im lost in the vortex and aint commin back I become you and you become me Lost in dream of fact or fantasy Hallucinations from red to green Find the calculations for why we fiend This is my life This is my hell Straight took a journey to the poison well This is my life This is my hell Straight took a journey to the poison well This is my life This is my hell Straight took a journey to the poison well This is my life This is my hell Straight took a journey to the poison well This is my life This is my hell Straight took a journey to the poison well This is my life This is my hell Straight took a journey to the poison well Yo Yo I can see clearly despite all the nonsense I can see clearly despite all the bullshit You can break it down but it still makes no sense I can see clearly despite all the nonsense

This is my brain So sick science cant even contain Is there any thought process that remains This is my brain So sick science cant even contain Is there any thought process that remains This is my life This is my hell Straight took a journey to the poison well This is my life This is my hell Straight took a journey to the poison well This is my life This is my hell Straight took a journey to the poison well This is my life This is my hell Straight took a journey to the poison well This is my life This is my hell Straight took a journey to the poison well This is my life This is my hell Straight took a journey to the poison well I found my hell Inside Tha Poison Well

I found my hell
