

Remnants Of You

Inspection 12

Yesterday I found
A note from you
And I broke down
It said how much
I meant to you and how
You wanted to elope with me
I guess we felt the same
But now your gone
And there's no way else to put it
I think of you as my lips become persuant
The memories now slowly fade away
And all that's left
Is my broken heart in shame
It tore me up
It snapped my neck
And what pains me most
Is your willing to neglect it all.
