Surrounded By Night

Into Eternity

Surrounded by night
This placid dark is so consuming
As I start my journey home
I feel the cold wind in my flesh face
I'm dying to be warm

Surrounded by night
The coma blankets all emotion
As I start this requiem
I'll take just one last breath
For this last sleep
I'm dying to be home

My paths been set Never second guess This undying need for warmth Our lives surrounded by shameless delusions

Seeking sounds and sight through fates electric light And I'm grasping for control
Numb to this darkness
Surrounded by night

My paths been set Never second guess This undying need for warmth Our lives surrounded by shameless delusions

Seeking sounds and sight through fates electric light And I'm grasping for control
Numb to this darkness
Surrounded by night

Surrounded by night Surrounded by night
