I Send A Message

In the silence, I think of you
I send a message, and I hope it get's through
Think of the distance
Think of the miles
All of the valley's, could take a while

I miss the people I miss the fun Your my apparition She's my only one

And I imagine you standing here It's subliminal, so inspirational Man of the world for all the good reasons Take away the pain and drink the wine

I miss the people I miss the fun Your my apparition She's my only one

In the silence, I think of you I send a message and I hope it get's through Think of the distance Think of the miles All of the valleys, could take a while

I miss the people I miss the fun Your my apparition She's my only one
