

Beyond Tomorrow

Ion Vein

Looking beyond the darkened door
Remembering things from long before
Concealing thoughts of what should be
The world is overcome with pain and misery
Escaping the horrors of society
Hoping one day that I may see my dreams

I want to go beyond tomorrow
To see what fate has in store
Looking out on the horizon
Longing for the things from before
As time heals wounds, so they say
The sands of time flow on each day
Living for tomorrow, I can't see past yesterday

Fight to see the world beyond your dreams
Live to see the world beyond tomorrow
Fight to see the world beyond your dreams
Live to see the world beyond tomorrow

Living life within myself
Victimized by ideals of someone else
Facing lies we cannot see
We are masters of our destiny
No control of what is said and done
The time for change has come

I want to go beyond tomorrow
To see what fate has in store
Looking out on the horizons
Longing for the things from before
As time heals wounds, so they say
The sands of time flow on each day
Living for tomorrow, I can't see past yesterday

Fight to see the world beyond your dreams
Live to see the world beyond tomorrow
Fight to see the world beyond your dreams
Live to see the world beyond tomorrow
