

Faith And Majesty

Ion Vein

Faith and majesty
All you'll ever need
Falling innocence
As fear draws you closer to me

The dream is ending
Something crossed the line
You feel the presence of another life
It only brings you halfway
Broken homes and hollow years
You're reaching out for answers
And your sins will help you
Look into the mist inside the crystal ball
You can watch the majesty
Through waterfall tears
Faith in what you see beyond your wildest dream
And living up to no one else but you

Faith and majesty
All you'll ever need
Falling innocence
As fear draws you closer to me

The pane of glass you look through
Will help to shade the sorrow
They all will try to use against you
It never ends
Criss crossing over things that only you can change

Now you begin
To see yourself as someone else
The air you breathe seems new
Look into the mist inside the crystal ball
You can watch the majesty
Through the waterfall
Faith in what you see beyond your wildest dream
And living up to no one else but you

Faith and majesty
All you'll ever need
Falling innocence
As fear draws you closer
Faith and majesty
All you'll ever need
Falling innocence
As fear draws you closer

Shutters breaking down
Fears fall lifeless to the ground
Still water life is ending
And you will unfold the rooms of your mansion
Turn on the lights
Turn on the lights in the dark

You will unfold the rooms of your mansion
Turn on the lights
