

Delivered One

Iris

Well your last words were 'see you later'
Now the violence of love is gone
In exchange for the hopeful ending
I am liking what you've become

You've really changed
Not for the bad
Just rearranged
So the good parts are all that you have
So the good parts are all that you have

I'm telling you now
As I'm sure the sun shines
As blessed as sacred rites
You're the delivered one
You're the delivered one

In the darkness I know I've lost it
In the light I know I'm blind
Though I'm keeping a cleaner closet
There's a whole lot more inside

In our next life
One will be late
And when arrives
Then the other will be there to take
Then the other will be there to take

I'm telling you now
As sure as at first light
The song of the sparrow cries
You're the delivered one
You're the delivered one

Hold on
I'm losing my place
Hold on
It's getting so late
Hold on
There'll be no mistakes
Now that we're on our own

As I'm sure the sun shines
As blessed as sacred rites
You're the delivered one
You're the delivered one
