Breaking down the Earth No chance for rebirth Everyone will die Even you and I

I won't be a slave
Who's digging his own grave
Like all the others
Don't turn your back on your brothers

Now it's too late To change our fate Someday the rain Will wash away the pain

Time is running out
And there's no return
We are the dying race
And we will burn
Every spirit will be gone
And mankind will fall
Cause this is the end of it all

We all love and hate
Destroy and create
The future is well-known
Dust will turn to stone

Madness and insanity Prisoners without a key Trapped here in Paradise But no one ever realizes

Now it's too late To change our fate Someday the rain Will wash away the pain

Time is running out
And there's no return
We are the dying race
And we will burn
Every spirit will be gone
And mankind will fall
Cause this is the end of it all

Time is running out
And there's no return
We are the dying race
And we will burn
Every spirit will be gone
And mankind will fall
Cause this is the end of it all