

Forest Of Illusion

Isengard

Deep in the forest, in a spreading place
The land that you know from childhood
It's lost, it's lost, it's lost in a haze

See your illusion, in the mirror sea
It's your reflection showing
It's your Odyssey

Silhouettes of creatures, movin' around
The wind just keep blowing stronger
With it's terrifying sound

Where shall you turn, in this darker world
The way that you conquer
Seems so wrong

Can't believe your eyes - for what you see
Can't believe your eyes - for what it will be

Searching your way out
The truth is lying there, next to you
You're searching for hours, searching for days
Now there can't be much more ways
You're tumbling on in the forest of illusion
I see you tumbling on in the forest of illusion

Down to the valley, through these ancient trees
There you'll find your own illusion
That no one yet have seen

Looking for wisdom, the place you ought to be
To see the revalation
That no one yet have seen
