

Love For Tomorrow

Isobel Campbell

And now you come to me
Offering a rainbow
And now you come to me
With love for tomorrow

But now we must be wise
We have both been burnt here
I'm looking in your eyes
Yet still there's much to learn

Yours is to question why
My best occupation
Is letting life pass me by
Loving is not my thing

And yet you persevere
You mean the world to me, boy
If we don't give this thing a try
We'll wonder why

Sure as the rainbow climbs
After clouds and thunder
Sure as the sunbeam shines on fear
Because you're near

And so I come to you
Offering a rainbow
I'm giving only you
My love for tomorrow
