

Stingray Affliction

Issues

Show me what you're worth (worth, worth)
Get up!

Face down,
Thinking out loud,
He's so hardcore when he's running his mouth.
There's always gonna be that fucking guy.

You got a few things bottled up,
Jump on a couple bottles like double dutch.
Jager got you faded,
When society's got you jaded.

How do you expect to grow,
When all you wanna do is break?
It's time to let shit go
And let the chorus play!

No, I don't wanna be tough,
I wanna make sure they can see me cry sure enough.
Don't wanna bottle this up,
The way you make me feel when you're around.
Tough guy dies a little inside, this town,
Might show no love,
But kid, you gotta wake up!

This is the real world,
And you're only hurting yourself.
When you spend every waking moment
With your finger crossed.
I don't think you can afford
To set karma further in motion.

Go ah... ead
No one
Cares
Talk shit, you mean nothing
Talk shit, you mean nothing

No, I don't wanna be tough,
I wanna make sure they can see me cry sure enough.
Don't wanna bottle this up,
The way you make me feel when you're around.
Tough guy dies a little inside, this town,
Might show no love,
But, no, I don't wanna be tough.

Ask what I see in you,
I don't see nothing, I see right through.
You're transparent, I know you don't want to hear it.
And I don't wanna be the person to slip up and hurt your feelings.

I guess they don't wanna say it to your face,
But I will cause somebody's gotta put you in your place.
I'm not afraid to scream and shout and fre-fre-freak out
And throw my hands and let it out.

Punk bitch walking tall like you got something to prove,
Nah man, cause deep down it know it sucks to be you.
Stingray affliction making small stabs in passing,
But the pain is bigger than it seems.
Stop holding me under and let me breath...

Just let me breath
The pain is bigger than it seems!
(A tough guy dies a little inside)
Just let me breath
The pain is bigger than it seems!
So stop holding me under and let me breath.
