

Midnight

It Bites

Heart of mine
Sewing frenzies of steel to the sky
By night a child
In a harvest of virginal mines

Mother say a prayer for your soldier blue
I'm doing it all for you
It's the chill of the night that threatens me
It makes me wish that I was back with you

And meanwhile home
It strokes it's foster child
We leave our home
And run to save our lives

Where you gonna hide at midnight
Are you gonna ask the moonlight
Where you gonna hide at midnight
Living on the edge of my nerves
Where you gonna hide at midnight
Are you gonna ask the moonlight

Heart of mine
Vacant structures impaled on the wires
There's no smoke without fire
It's a fuel called the making of empires

Mother say me another I'm your soldier blue
Take no prisoners
I'm doing all my praying to the North Star
Help me the meaningless tunes
I close my eyes and wish myself to you

And meanwhile home
Explodes before our eyes
We leave our home
And rise to the heavens high

Where you gonna hide at midnight
Are you gonna ask the moonlight
Where you gonna hide at midnight
Living on the edge of my nerves
Where you gonna hide at midnight
Are you gonna ask the moonlight

You got a friend in me for life now
You got a friend in me so please please
Take me to a different way

Living on the edge of my nerves
Living on the edge of my nerves
Living on the edge of my nerves

Where you gonna hide at midnight
Are you gonna ask the moonlight
Where you gonna hide at midnight
Living on the edge of my nerves

Where you gonna hide at midnight
Are you gonna ask the moonlight

Where you gonna hide at midnight
Are you gonna ask the moonlight
Where you gonna hide at midnight
Living on the edge of my nerves
