The Flavor Of The Night

Itchy Poopzkid

The light of day, it blinds my eyes and casts a cloud right ove r me

Shadows do not exist at night and colors can shone easily It used to be unknown but I made up my mind and here's the fact s

The day is yours, the night is mine, wait for the dusk and I'll be back

I will be back

When the city sleeps I melt away from here To taste the flavour of the night When the city sleeps I melt away from here To see the darkness turn to light The flavour of the night

I'm wide away I feel like I am rising from the ashes Adrenaline starts rushing through my veins, I'm ready to get ou t

Time to get out

When the city sleeps I melt away from here To taste the flavour of the night When the city sleeps I melt away from here To see the darkness turn to light The flavour of the night

We all taste the flavour of the night We all taste the flavour of the night

The shadows drift away (too far to see) The night belongs to me

When the city sleeps I melt away from here To taste the flavour of the night When the city sleeps I melt away from here To see the darkness turn to light The flavour of the night
