

Through The Window

Itchy Poopzkid

I'm broken, come try to fix me, it's no game.
Can't you see my life is going down the drain?
I'm starting to realize this is insane.
No one cares, when no one knows your name

All alone with the shadow that's by my side.
All alone through the window into the night.
On my own like the rain on a summer day.
All alone with the blood running through my veins.

I have never had no fame and no glory.
Even voices in my head seem hate me.
Love and hope is what's concerning me real deep and the wish to finally make you see.

Come on and just walk by again!
I'm used to not being a friend.

No matter what I do or say you just turn your face away.
Away from me.
