Don't let her down she's a butterfly, don't put her down she's mine all mine.

Don't point your finger you don't know her at all, there're so many loosers...

She's part of my life from a distant world, sometimes she hurts so bad the pain won't go away. Say nothing to hurt her it's not her fault, so many loosers but the winner takes all.

Say nothing to hurt her it's not her fault, so many loosers but the winner takes all.

Give her a chance and she'll prove you're wrong, you walk around in circles with your blindfolds on. So don't let me cath you try to make her fall, so many loosers but the winner takes all.
