Blinded

Ivory Tower

Envy, greed and hate Have left scars on me Scars as deep as canyons Now I stand here Face to face with my fate

I absorbed the world around me Compassion I've never known I have paid the price And I've lost my mind Nowhere to go

It all comes back into my mind The power and respect So close at hand I feel they're watching me Both of them belonged to me I was blinded Like roses need the rain Possessed me. Led enchanted me I was blinded So tasteful, so sweet I gave myself up to a force Tormented by remorse

On the run from shadows of the past I regret all of what I said I think I'm changing

The way I feel the way I think No time to waste It's time to part with the evil If I had the chance to turn back I would put right all I can Learn to follow principles of life Love is part os this advice Oh, I try

If I had the chance to turn back I would put right all I can Learn to follow principles of life Love is part os this advice It's time to regret, it's time to respect It's time to feel sympathy With those who are victimized

Yes, I was blinded
