Did you think you were made for all the things That felt like a waste Or has everything led you to be What you have never foreseen

Everything I see reminds me
Of just how beautiful you can be
I'm waiting for a feeling
That would make love open my eyes
Remind me I'm alive

This Seattle life, it has changed me from the inside Changed me from the inside It has magnified all my cries For something more than fine

Everything I see reminds me
Of just how beautiful you can be
I'm waiting for a feeling
That would make love open my eyes
Remind me I'm alive

Remind me I'm alive Remind me I'm alive Remind me I'm alive Remind me I'm alive

Now we see that everything we have
And everything we lack
Is exactly what we need
Every single day
Everything we've made
Has put us in this place in just this way

Everything I see reminds me
Of just how beautiful you can be
I'm waiting for a feeling
That would make love open my eyes
Remind me I'm alive

Remind me I'm alive Remind me I'm alive
