

The Closest

Ivoryline

This is it. This is it. It's so close I can almost taste it.
As of now, as of now I'm just hoping that we make it.
Visible, visible, it's so close I can only see it.
As of now, as of now I'm just hoping I don't waste it.

This song is three years in the making,
and it's finally ours for the taking.
We're looking for any in, any in just to find our way out.
Any in, any in just to find our way.
Just as we begin to roam
from this trap we call our home

This is it, this is it. It's so close I can only see it.
As of now, as of now, I'm just hoping I don't waste it.

Honestly and modestly you know
(I perform so much better under pressure)
I just need you to believe that I've been moving honestly and modestly you know.

I perform so much better,
under pressure, this pressure.
I just need you to believe that I've been moving
honestly and modestly you know.

Savor the life you have.
Savor the life don't waste it.
Savor
Savor the life you have.

Just as we begin to roam
from this trap we call our home,

Terrible, terrible. There's a fight and before you know it it's the end. It's the end, and you're fighting not to show it.
