

Can't Even Fake It

Ivy

You were once my philosopher
You and me side by side
Like vines that grow together
You were once my favorite preacher
You told your stories well
And I was your believer
So far, from my heart now you've been fading
So long, so long
Now I can't even make it
Can't even feel it
Can't even fake it
Can't even lie and lie and lie and lie
Can't even make it

You and I sit on the park bench
Staring at the rain
Let's talk about the weather
Now I'm thinking to myself
What more can I do
No joy, no pain, but silence

So far, from my heart now you've been fading
So long, so long
Now I can't even make it
Can't even feel it
Can't even fake it
Can't even lie and lie and lie and lie

All the love, and desire
Have become perfect liars
So let it die

So far, from my heart now you've been fading
So long, so long
Now I can't even make it
Can't even feel it
Can't even fake it
Can't even lie and lie and lie and lie
Can't even make it
Never
