Pazuzu For The Win

Iwrestledabearonce

What do I deserve? We were two of a kind You can't help but feel emotionless When you're the one standing Watching from the outside I never had to care I never had to worry But I never stopped to think I never stop thinking She knows so much I wish I could scoop up the ones I love And place them far away Certain songs ring aloud Make your mind wonder about better times Everyone come to one Everyone wants what no one gets And that's why they don't They want more That's why the world may come to an end I will be the one sitting at the edge of the rock Waiting to be invited in