

Folk Song

Jack Bruce

How will I find you O my love
In the darkness of day
I will look in glass forests
Where electric fish play
How will I see you when I find you
In the brightness of light
I will see you on the silver train
That people call night

How will I know you when I see you
In the bareness of spring
I will know you by starlight
Where the road's echoes sing

How will I love you when i know you
In the greyness of mist
I will love you forever
Where sadness hass kisses

Walking by the sea
See the names floating by
Trying to find each other's Trails in the sky
