Ships In The Night

Ships in the night Searching for day Beckoning lips So far away Shadows adrift Hiding from light Ships in the night Sometimes you feel Then again you can't Morning comes down Soon after the dance Time slowly drowns Streets so unreal Needing to heal

Harbours of love Shining so calm Far beyond pain Outside of harm Why must we move Into the rain Again ...

Ships in the night Riding the waves Yesterday slips Into the haze Memories ripped Sliding from sight Ships in the night

Maybe you win Maybe you lose Future seems like Just another ruse Sirens invite Us to begin Come right on in

Harbours of love Shining so calm Far beyond pain Outside of harm Why must we move Out of the sun Into the rain Again ... Jack Bruce
