Jack Frost

Sink

I see the sun in your eyes when I drown in your arms and sink in the dark in these dead sands of an unknown shore

I see the sun in your soul as I die in your arms and I see you descending into silent suicide on your lost shore black sun dawning in your soul hollow soul you see the sun in my eyes when you're fucking my soul and you stifle my life with this shallow sands that know nothing for sure and I see you descending into silent suicide on your lost shore

black sun dawning in your soul hollow soul into silent suicide on your lost shore
