

I Will Always

Jack Greene

Loving you I will always and wanting you I will always
Remembering you I will always and nothing can stop my loving you

Missing you I will always and needing you I will always
And remembering you I will always and nothing can stop my loving you

Times will come and go and memories won't grow old
And happiness, oh, I know that I've found all with you Loving you I will always and needing you I will always
Remembering you I will always and nothing can stop my loving you
