

Nothing To Gain

Jack Ingram

I don't wanna feel like this
I don't really want your kiss
I wanna walk out the door
I don't want you no more

You feel this way too, I know
You think that it does not show
But I can tell by your touch
You don't want me that much

And it's lonely inside of this broken heart
For how long have you felt the pain?
Over and over we've done our part
So there's no use in handing out blame
Two people with nothing left to gain

There's nowhere to go from here
I can't find a road that's clear
And I'm too weak to take it alone
And I'm too scared to go on my own

And it's lonely inside of this broken heart
For how long have you felt the shame?
Over and over we've done our part
So there's no use in handing out blame
Two people with nothing left to gain

We're two people with nothing left to gain
