Staple It Together

Jack Johnson

Its really Too bad He became a prisoner of his own past He stabbed the moment in the back With the round thumbtack That held up the list of things he gotta do Its really, No qood He's moving on before he understood He shot the future in the foot with every step he took From the places that he's been cause he forgot to look Better staple it together and call it bad weather Staple it together and call it bad weather (3x) Mm hmm Well I guess you could say That he dont even know where to begin Cause he looked both ways but he was so afraid Digging deep into the ditch With every chance he missed And the mess he made Cause hate is such a strong word And every brick he laid A mistake they say That his walls are getting taller His world is getting smaller Better staple it together and call it bad weather Staple it together and call it bad weather (3x) Mm hmm Whoo Its really Too bad He became a prisoner of his own past He stabbed a moment in the back With the round thumbtack That held up the list of things he gotta do Its really, No good Hes moving on before he understood He shot the future in the foot with every step he took From the places that he's been cause he forgot to look Better staple it together and call it bad weather Staple it together and call it bad weather (3x) If the weather is better We should get together Spend a little time and we can do whatever And if we get together we'll be twice as clever So, staple it together and call it bad weather, mm hmmm
