Bandaid Covers The Bullet Hole

Jack Off Jill

bees in the caramel and i'm not afraid surgeons make incisions what a mess they've made tearing at my skin leaving knives in my brain stabbing at the voices making me insane girls vommit candy

the lies that they're fed boys whisper lullabies and wet their beds eat t.v. violence on the toast that they spread talking with their mouths full here is what they said

"say hello to my little friend"
her world is getting ugly
and we did it again
ohh, uh, ohh, the bandaid only covers the bullethole ohh, uh, ohh, the bandaid only covers the bullethole

la la la la la la spiders in my hair and guns on my mind talking about the poeple who've been so unkind if looks could kill them i might make myself blind startled at the reasons that i just can't find kids break the dishes they crash on the floor parents hate the noise and shove them out the door robots steal emotions hide them under their beds it gets them so excited
