

Future

Jackie Boyz

Would you believe me if I told you
That I can see into the future

I'm not the type to feed you lies
I will tell you the truth
Fate has brought me to you
Oh right.

I'm your future
I came from a thousand light-years away
'Cause I'm your future, here to take you far away from this place
You've been lost in the past
I'm here to find you
So baby hold on
Let me take you back to your future

To your future
Back to your future

I know we've never met before, ohh
But it seems like I've known you forever
Yeah
Baby right when you said no
Could be a moment in history
The making of you and me

Take a trip through time, girl
I can show you what you're missing
You and I can fly away
Leaving it all behind

I'm your future
I came from a thousand light-years away
'Cause I'm your future, here to take you far away from this place
You've been lost in the past
I'm here to find you
So baby hold on
Let me take you back to your future

I came from a thousand light-years away
I'm your future and I'll take you far away from this place
I'm your future
I came from a thousand light-years away
I'm from your future and I'll take you far away from this place

Take a trip through time, girl
I can show you what you're missing
You and I can fly away
Let's leave it all behind

I'm your future
I came from a thousand light-years away
'Cause I'm your future, here to take you far away from this place
You've been lost in the past
I'm here to find you
So baby hold on
Let me take you back to your future

I came from a thousand light-years away
I'm your future and I'll take you far away from this place
I'm your future
I came from a thousand light-years away
I'm your future and I'll take you far away from this place

Back to your future.
