I Don't Need You Anymore

Jackie DeShannon

We, we traveled a long, long way.

Then suddenly it went astray. It \mathbb{N} s time to turn and walk a - way. It seems to me that you`ve forgotten what we had

And I don't see you anymore
When blue skies don't make our day,
What can you do? What can you say?
ItMs time to stop and walk away.
So I'll be smart, I'll leave the memMries in the hall
Before they reach my heart.

And I wonNt need you anymore (Instrumental line)
An empty room we used to share,
I look for you but youNre not there.
So IN1l be strong, I`ll probably linger at the door But not for very long

And I don't need you anymore Except I don't think thats really true.
