

Break Mama Break

Jackie Greene

break down and cry
you can break mama, break break down and die

if you don't mind breakin and youre heart can take the achin' you can break mama all the time i got nothing but them 2 dollar shoes ain't nothing quite like those rhythm and blues so take your chances with a man who dances cause' you know he can't refuse and you can break mama, break break down and cry you can break mama break, break down and die if you don't mind breaking and your heart can take the achin you can break mama all the time

well I know a place we can hide from the weather honey, i know a place we can make love together but if your daddy says no, then i guess you can't go but you ca n't stay home forever

I can hear the band playing just like the wind I can hear them saints go marching in but if you forget it then you may regret it cause' I won't be back again
