Pale Blue Monday

Jackie Greene

Well I let down Virginia When I told her I was bound for leaving I told her that the city air Just weren't worth my breathing Then I packed my bags and left her On her own