

You Are There

Michael Jackson

You are there like the laughter of a child
When I need just a smile, suddenly the sun shines for a while Everywhere, sounds of love are everywhere
And my heart sings along, thanks to you, I finally got a song

'Cause you are there, you are there, you are there somewhere
Each time my world seems like it's falling down
Things look up just having you around
So every night I say a prayer just because you're there

Like a rainbow after rain
Like the night follows day
You're the answer to the prayers I say

And you are there, you are there, you are there somewhere
No matter where I go or what I do
You are there to help me see it through
So every night I say a prayer just because you're there

Ooh, you are there, ooh, you are there, somewhere
And as the years go by, we'll stay as true
What you are for me, I'll be for you
And every night I'll say a prayer just because you're there
Ooh, you are there, ooh, you are there
Everywhere, you are there
